

On July 24, 2023, WFDD invited Michael Suggs from Goler Community Development Corporation to share information related to an email he sent requesting Youtube instructional videos from Amhydro, the manufacturer of his growing system. The following is his response in full:

1. GCDC purchased the growing equipment from AM Hydro and as a part of their technical assistance and individual came to the site and made sure the equipment was set up correctly and that the many components were working properly. The growing system is totally independent of the greenhouse so we were working with individuals from Rimol (greenhouse supplier) and AM Hydro to integrate their systems. A part of AM Hydro technical assistance also includes videos and booklets and other written material on how to operate their system.
